To whom it may concern

After a very close friend of mine , brought up during a reunion , that he had been fraudulently relieved of a significant amount of funds , by what seemed to be a genuine investment opportunity within real estate , to which he was lured into by a somewhat likeable character of an entrepreneur , I myself , having had experiences within tracking down corrupt individuals over my past , committed myself to assist and to find this individual .

Unfortunately , this event had happened some years prior and the corrupt subject , through several enquiries had fled from his native country , and had apparently taken refuge in Canada , thus keeping extremely low key indeed , creating what he had assumed , a secure camouflage net , well hidden under the radar as it were , from his colourful history overseas .

Upon these findings , I proceeded to search the web for reputable PI groups , based within Canada , to which I came across CPA , along with several other PI companies , advertising .

I emailed several of the companies , to which I received immediate correspondence from CPA , and gained direct communication with John Pisarski and Heather Giuriato , whom from the word go , were outstandingly professional and prompt within our emails to which over days turned into phone calls , covering all information I had , to be passed on to CPA for them to assist within my search .

Due to their immediate response , unlike other companies I had contacted , and the ease in which I immediately warmed to CPA's serious and dedicated approach , I proceeded solely with them.

This turned out to be , to say the very least , a positive result from my gutt feeling , to entrust CPA , as they found the subject over a very short period of time , and in a very remote small town in BC , due to their incredibly experienced and intellectual group of professionals , despite the subject covering his tracks extremely well .

Upon receiving this wonderful news , my friend and I flew to Canada to confront the subject , who shortly after returned to his native country and was apprehended by the authorities and imprisoned .

The result was a success , and I would , without a shadow of a doubt , highly recommend CPA and their impressive services to anyone .
I hold the utmost of respects to this incredibly professional oraganisation , and have remained in contact ever since , and will certainly do so in the future .
They are true heroes within humanity .

Regards and respects ,
